

EVERYTHING
TASTES
STRANGE
TODAY

A SHORT FILM BY KRISTINA SPASSOVSKA

EVERYTHING TASTES STRANGE TODAY

Synopsis:

On another endless summer day in the privacy of their garden, all a twelve-year-old girl wants is to be her older brother's darling.

Director's note:

"Everything tastes strange today" catches on 16mm the first encounter of a young girl with her feminine nature and desires. The film is shot at my own family house, in my quiet garden of Eden, where I came out of age alongside my brother, where I went through all these confusing feelings for the first time, wandering between nature and civilisation.

Fiction, 12 min, 2023

Bulgaria

Color, 1.33:1, Stereo

Shooting format: 16mm Kodak Screening format: Digital 2K

Writer and director: Kristina Spassovska

Director of photography: Ivan Chertov

Produced by Bellevue Kino

Supported by The National Culture Fund, L'Institut Français de Bulgarie and FILM+